Dear Valued Partner,

We are delighted to inform you that we have officially launched our guide for implementing virtual exchange! Our handbook, which is the final output from the NICE Project, is a roadmap to help you understand how we created and ran the NICE Programme (combining virtual and in-person learning), and how you can implement this programme (either in part or in full) for your own students or staff. To read our handbook, please click the link below:

The NICE Programme: Your Roadmap to Starting Virtual Exchange

Our handbook is broken down into a number of different sections outlining how to build your own virtual exchange programme. We have also compiled a resource pack as an appendix to the handbook, which includes template emails, training notes and staff recruitment plans. To help you navigate through the handbook and use the resource pack effectively we have created a short introduction video, which is available on the NICE website.

We are hosting an online Q&A session on Wednesday, 13th January, 2021 at 11:00 GMT/12:00 CET and we would be delighted if you could join us. Members of the NICE Project Consortium will provide you with a short presentation on our handbook and answer any questions you may have about implementing a virtual exchange programme within your own institution.

To sign up for our online session, please click the link below:
