

Leaders Of The Future Awards - Nomination Criteria

The Leaders Of The Future Awards are designed to celebrate the achievements of either current students or recent alumni at U21 member universities showing great promise or impact in internationalisation.

Please ensure you have read the information below carefully before submitting your nomination.

How Do I Nominate a Current Student or Young Alumnus?

The process is straightforward – fill in the nomination form with the reasons you are choosing the student or alumnus you would like to nominate. In the form, you will be asked to evidence how nominees show excellence in one or more of the following ways:

- Leading change – breaking down barriers and initiating new and innovative approaches to global challenges.
- Creating connection – aspiring to create new connections locally or nationally that could develop into international impact.
- Empowering others – recognising, supporting and amplifying the voices of marginalised communities, groups or people.
- Influencing others – aspiring to challenge norms and bringing other leaders at all levels with them.

Who Can Be Nominated for a Leaders Of The Future Award?

Nominees should be either current students or alumni who have graduated from a U21 university within the last 10 years.

Nominees may have previously received local recognition as 'student/alumni of the year' or equivalent but that is not a requirement for nomination.
